Hisarönü - Marmaris

Beckoning you are the most vibrant greens,
the deepest blues and the greatest romances.

Awaiting you is the stunning beauty and enchanting atmosphere of the Gulf of Hisarönü, mythological home of the Goddess Hemithea, whose powers of healing and beautification were believed to prolong the lives of the local inhabitants.

The Legend of Hemithea

Molpadia and Parthenos, the daughters of Staphylus, King of Rhodes, were charged with safeguarding the sacred wine. The sisters nodded off one day and woke up to find all of the vessels of wine had tipped over. When the girls saw what had happened they were so terrified of their father's reaction that they threw themselves off a cliff. At the last moment, they were saved by Apollo, who brought Molpadia to Pazarcık, near Hisarönü. Believing that Molpadia healed people in their sleep, the locals renamed her Hemithea, the "goddess of healing", and erected a temple in her honour.

Let your compass point you to exciting new lands.

Hisarönü

Explore the legendary beauty of Hisarönü!

Your first stop might be the Temple of Hemithea on Mount Eren. After admiring the ruins of the ancient city of Castabus, you could leave the temple and climb to the hilltop Medieval Castle.

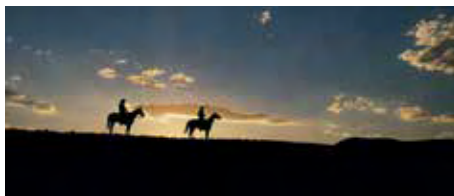

Next, you might visit Kız Kumu, a 700-meter-long reddish-tinted sandbar on which people appear to be walking on water.

Once ashore, you could continue your Blue Voyage with a jeep safari on Bozburun Peninsula, and take in the otherworldly beauty of Taşlıca Village, the last settlement at the tip of the peninsula.

You could also stop by Selimiye, a town surrounded by groves of olive and almond trees, renowned for its seafood and handicrafts.

You could surf in the waters of Hisarönü or simply marvel at the surfers battling the waves. Another option is to take horse-riding lessons at the equestrian facilities in Hisarönü, or to join a riding safari along the beach or through the forest.

Keep in mind that the Gulf of Hisarönü is a spawning ground, offering up bountiful daily catches of red porgy, mullet, sea bass, sea bream, black bream and white grouper.

Datça

Bougainvillea-adorned lanes, thyme-scented mountains...

The ancient city of Knidos is a legacy of the great civilization that once flourished in Datça. Other mesmerizing historical sites include the Temple of Aphrodite and the Sundial of the mathematician and astronomer, Eudoxus of Cnidus.

Palamutbükü, Kargı Cove, Ovabükü, Domuz Çukuru, Karşı Koyu, Mesudiye and Körnen Coves are some of the main attractions of this unspoiled natural setting.

Admire the view in Balıkaşiran, the only point at which the waters of both the Aegean and Mediterranean can be seen mingling together.

You can also admire the fine craftsmanship of the ubiquitous two-storey Datça Houses lining the narrow bougainvillea-adorned lanes.

Be sure to find time for Burgaz (old Knidos), Sarı Harbor, Reşadiye, Çiftlik Harbor and Gebekum!

You could also visit the charming villages of Datça, such as Çeşme Village, Yazı Village, Karaköy, Yaka Village and Sındı Village.

Wander through the ceramics workshops or sample the honey, almonds, olives, olive oil, thyme, sage tea, carob molasses and topped lavender in the Datça Marketplace.

You might enjoy a visit to the home of the late Can Yücel, one of Turkey's foremost poets.

Another attraction is the windmills along the Marmaris Road, near Kızlar. Why not go diving in Datça, with its underwater treasure of amphora, in İnce Burun, Üç Kayalar, Dicks Rocks or Knidos Kiremit Batağı.

Environs

Hisarönü's ideal location is the gateway to many days of adventure.

Drop anchor in The Gulf of Hisarönü's Kamelya Island, Dişlice (Aşk) Island, Emel Sayın Cove, Tavşan Island, Kartal Cove, Bencik Harbour or İnbükü. You can also explore the natural beauty of Turgut Waterfall.
